BOND

Bond -- The surname "Bond" is derived from the Anglo-Saxon word "bonda" meaning a householder, proprietor, or husbandman.

Burke's COMMONERS says: "The Bonds are a family of great antiquity in Cornwall commencing with Robert of Hache, Beauchamp County, Somerset, living in 1433, father of Robert who married Mary, daughter of Lord Chief Justice Hardy and Jane. Robert and Jane are frequent family names. One branch settled in Dorset and another founded the Essex family of Bonds."

ZEBEDU[6] BOND (Abner[5], William[4], Samuel[3], Joseph[2], Robert[1]), born: January 6, 1796, at Caldwell, New Jersey; died: January 16, 1884, at Mendon, New York. Buried at Honeoye Falls, New York. Married, January 14, 1819, (by Rev. Joseph Badger) Amy Bardner (born: October 7, 1801, at Pittsford, New York; died: June 4, 1883).

(Reference -- Everts, Ensign, and Everts: HISTORY OF MONROE COUNTY, NEW YORK, 1877. -- Also: OBITUARY, FAMILY BIBLE RECORD):

Zebedu Bond, for 78 years a resident of Mendon (New York), was the second child and eldest son of Abner Bond. In 1806 the family came from New Jersey and settled on or near what is known as the Waite Farm. It is now owned by Nathan Burt. A dense forest then covered Mendon. Zebedu had nine children -- five boys and four girls.

He lived for 55 years on the farm where he died. In his early days he was called a "Jersey Dutch." As a man he was very inoffensive in his disposition and seldom, if ever, spoke of the thoughts of others. He was obliging and accomodating.

Zebedu was in the War of 1812 but only got as far as Buffalo, New York. He was a farmer and so were his sons.

His funeral services were held at the Quaker Meeting House near Mendon Center. He is buried at his father's feet in Honeoye Cemetery. One daughter survived him, Mrs. Ransom Sheldon of Mendon.

IRA[6] BOND (Abner[5], William[4], Samuel[3], Joseph[2], Robert[1]), born: January 19, 1798, at Caldwell, New Jersey; died: November 30, 1887, at Kirtland, Ohio. Married, November 25, 1822, Charlotte Wilcox at Mendon, New York. She was the daughter of Henry (1781 -- 1821) and Polly (Sibley) Wilcox. She was born December 7, 1803, at Mendon, New York; died: December 17, 1882, at Kirtland, Ohio.

(Reference -- OBITUARY):

Ira lived in Kirtland (Ohio) fifty-three years (since 1834). The house where he and his wife lived still stands a block back of the Temple. He was a store-keeper. His sons ran an Ashery on the "flats."

Charlotte brought several fine pieces of Empire furniture and a mulberry set of china to her new home. They are now in the possession of Mrs. Maynard M. Bond at Lake Helen, Florida. Charlotte did a great deal of fine weaving making coverlets, damask towels, and plainer things. She was blind the last ten years of her life.

The Ira Bond's interest in the Mormons brought them to Kirtland, but they became disgusted with the Mormons and left them. However, they still remained in Kirtland. Both are buried in the Kirtland Cemetery adjoining the Temple.

EZRA[7] BOND (Ira[6], Abner[5], William[4], Samuel[3], Joseph[2], Robert[1]), born: January 31, 1826, at Mendon, New York; died: December 25, 1908, at Daytona, Florida. Married at Kirtland, Ohio, April 1, 1847, Mary Alice Bryant (born: November, 1826, at Saco, Maine; died: October 5, 1918, at Daytona, Florida). She was the daughter of Major Joseph and Charlotte Libby Bryant. Both Ezra and his wife are buried in Kirtland, Ohio.

Ezra came to Kirtland, Ohio, in 1834, was educated at Western Reserve Teachers Seminary and began teaching at the age of sixteen. He graduated in medicine but never practiced. He was a harness-maker. In 1853 he went to California via Panama as agent for the American Express Company. He had a store during the Civil War; made his start then. Did not serve in the War because of poor health. All his life he was a great reader. He acted as correspondent from Kirtland for the WILLOUGHBY INDEPENDENT for years. He would eat no food containing salt.

He made his first trip to Florida for the winter of 1893-4. He returned there in 1898 and from that time spent his winters in Daytona. His old home was opposite the old Temple in Kirtland, Ohio.

EBER WILLIAM[7] BOND (Ira[6], Abner[5], William[4], Samuel[3], Joseph[2], Robert[1]), born: December 9, 1835, at Kirtland, Ohio; died: August 3, 1913, at Willoughby, Ohio. Married, June 1, 1856, Sophia Malby (born: 1836; died: July 1, 1913). She was the daughter of Robert Malby (born: London, England) and Ann Crenshaw (born: Quebec). Both Eber William and Sophia are buried at Willoughby, Ohio; grief, due to the loss of his wife, caused his death a month after her passing.

Raised on his father's farm and educated in Kirtland's Academy (then housed in the abandoned Mormon Temple), Eber ran away from home at the age of 15. He went "around the Horn" as a common sailor. During the California Gold Rush he mined gold in California for several years. The wedding ring that his wife wore to her death was made of gold mined by him.

He and his brothers ran an Ashery on the flats at Kirtland. Next, he and his brother Milton ran flat-boats from Ohio River points to New Orleans (Louisiana) before the Civil War. He did not serve in the Union Army during the War, but bought supplies for Union soldiers.

He went to Michigan in the early 70's and began lumbering. He had a mill on the south side of Clam Lake (now Cadillac). He then went to Round Lake. Bond's Siding (six miles north of Cadillac on the G.R. & I. Railroad) still exists and is all that remains of the town of Bond which, in 1878, had a railway station, a post office, and a population of almost 300. This mill belonged to the Bond Brothers. Eber next acquired a mill at Fife Lake, the firm at one time being Bond, Kysor, and Chickering. Here

Mr W= Matter, of Grand Rapids Mich, a son in law of Milton Bond says, 1934, "Eber & Milton Bond had a mill in Kentucky right after the Civil War. They then went to Bear Creek Pa. Both Milton & Eber and their families were at Vineland N.J. for several years. In the fall of 1893 the Matters went to Clarksburg Mich where Matter ran the commissary for a couple of years. Milton Bond then had a mill there.

Milton and Marie Jacobi were married in Chicago before Matters went to Clarksburg. Jacobi Br ran a store at Newaygo Mich.

60,000 feet of lumber were cut daily. This mill burned about 1880 and with it 6,000,000 feet of lumber. Smaller mills were put in at Walton and Kalkaska.

In the early 80's Eber disposed of his Michigan interests and returned to Ohio. He settled in Willoughby and organized the Willoughby Wagon Manufacturing Company, the Bank of Willoughby, and built Bond Hall there in 1879. Later he organized the Willoughby Milling Company. He also served as Mayor of Willoughby. He affected, through his well-directed labors, every legitimate phase of business and public activity.

In 1880 he first visited Florida; homesteaded a choice tract of land near DeLand, and erected a saw mill and put in an orange grove. In 1891 this mill (at first called Bond and Rich and after 1881 the Bond Lumber Company) was moved to Glenwood and located on the Jacksonville, Tampa, and Key West Railroad (now the Atlantic Coast Line). Mr. Bond's eldest son, Frank E., and Jacob B. Conrad forming the company. This partnership continued until the death of both partners (Mr. Bond in 1907, and Mr. Conrad in 1921). The mill still carries on in other hands.

Eber built, in 1883, the first railroad in Volusia County (Florida) from DeLand Landing on the St. Johns River to DeLand five miles away. His son, Frank, and his nephew, Ed. L. Bond, were called from Kalkaska, Michigan, to build and manage this railroad. He was sued in the United States Courts in Jacksonville by a passenger who had wandered about the wharf and fallen. The jury, hating railroads that killed there cattle and bearing a grudge against all Northerners, gave the plaintiff $50,000 damages.

This Mr. Bond refused to pay and so lost his railroad.

In 1904 he obtained property at Lake Helen (Florida) and built a saw and veneer mill. He organized the E.W. Bond Company and became a partner in the Bond Sand Stone Brick Company. He was at the head of these two firms at his death. Here his sons and his brother, Milton, were associated with him.

He was always prominent in Democratic politics, and was a delegate to the Convention at San Francisco in 1908. He was also president of the National Spiritualistic Association and was responsible for their southern camp being located at Lake Helen.

No history of the early settlement of Volusia County (Florida) or of its later business development would be complete without mention of Eber Bond, his sons, and nephew. Through many busy years Eber was a founder, a builder, and a developer.

The fact that men who were with him in the Bond's Mills in Michigan followed him to Florida and continued there with his sons, shows that he was considerate of other's interests.

FRANK (lin) E.(ben)[8] BOND (Eber W.[7], Ira[6], Abner[5], William[4], Samuel[3], Joseph[2], Robert[1]), born: February 28, 1859, at Newburgh Landing, Indiana (on the Ohio River); died: early in September, 1907, at DeLand, Florida. He died of a sudden heart attack. Buried at Willoughby, Ohio.

Educated in the schools of Ohio and at Eastman's Business College at Poughkeepsie, New York, his first occupation was in the lumber business in Forest County, Pennsylvania, where his father had extensive interests. Later he became the Cashier of the Bank of Willoughby (Ohio), a private bank owned by his father. Two years later he took care of his father's lumber interests at Fife Lake, Michigan, becoming General Manager of the E.W. Bond and Company. Returning to Ohio he became Secretary-Treasurer of the Willoughby Manufacturing Company.

In 1881 Frank E. went to Florida and settled at DeLand. He commenced a business career of much activity and prominence. His father had established a lumber mill here which became the firm of Bond and Rich, and Frank was made manager. In 1882 he became a partner and the firm became the Bond Lumber Company. With him was Jacob B. Conrad who had been employed in the Bond Mills in Michigan. These two continued their partnership until death parted them. Mr. Conrad ran the mills while Mr. Bond sold the products. They developed the largest retail lumber business in Florida with mills at Glenwood and Highland Park on the Plant System Railroad, and at Neoga, St. Johns County, on the Florida and East Coast Railroad, and with retail yards at DeLand, Daytona, Miami, Titusville, and West Palm Beach.

 (Paged incorrectly. There is no page 34.)

In 1884 Frank, with his father's aid, began the construction of the first railroad in Volusia County (Florida). It ran from DeLand Landing on the St. Johns River to DeLand, a distance of five miles. It was a narrow gauge road, and although charges were ten cents per mile, transportation was much cheaper. Part of this short line became a part of the Jacksonville, Tampa, and Key West Railroad which reached DeLand in 1886.

In 1887 Mr. Bond was appointed General Freight and Passenger Agent for the Orange Belt Road, later being made Superintendent. Early in the 90's he resigned his railroad connections and devoted himself to his own interests.

In 1898 with his cousin E.L. Bond, he purchased the interests of the East Florida Land and Produce Company at Neoga. This was an English company that had not been successful, but under the Bonds the mill was enlarged giving it a daily production of 75,000 feet. This was known as the Bond and Bond Company. The mill burned in March, 1902, and was not rebuilt.

In 1892 Mr. Bond became interested in the Volusia County State Bank at DeLand, and was elected Cashier and one of the directors. A branch, the Merchants' Bank at Daytona, was established in 1896 at his suggestion. (Both of these banks flourished for years but both went down in the Depression of 1930.)

Taking into consideration his many and extensive interests in connection with railroads, banks, and lumbering, it may be said that there have been few busier men in Florida than Mr. Frank E. Bond, and none who have done more for the development of his section of the state.

EDDIE LINCOLN BOND (Ezra[8], Ira[7], Abner[6], William[5], Samuel[4], Joseph[3], Robert[2]), born: December 15, 1860, at Kirtland, Ohio. He gained a common school education there and came to Michigan in 1879. He settled at Clam Lake (now Cadillac) after first visiting Alison Bryant in Mayville (Michigan). It was in Mayville that he lost his thumb. At Clam Lake he went to work in Eber Bond's saw mill. He married Della C. Olin (of Crofton, Michigan) at Kalkaska (Michigan), January 31, 1883, and then returned to Kirtland, Ohio. In 1886 he moved to Florida, settling first at DeLand Landing on the St. Johns River. Here he was wharf-agent as well as engineer and conductor for the railroad (constructed by Eber Bond) between the river and DeLand. In 1887 the family removed to DeLdand and Eddie L. became the conductor of the branch of the railroad between DeLand and DeLand Landing. He remained at this job until 1891 when he was fired on Judge Isaac Stewart's complaint that he had missed connections because the train was late.

Eddie L. then moved to Highland Park, Forida, and ran a shingle and veneer mill until 1896 when the mill was moved to Bond's Mill. The family moved, then, to the Shoemaker Place and in April, 1898, moved to Daytona (Florida). The Bond and Bond Company (Ed. and Frank E.) having been organized, they purchased the mill at Neoga, thirty miles north of Daytona. This mill burned in 1902.

Mr. Bond was then employed by the U. J. White Company (*) at Dupont (Florida) as Superintendent. He remained there about five years. He then removed to Daytona and went into partnership with B. F. Hough, a mason contractor. At Mr. Hough's death he took over the entire business. In 1918-19 Mr. Bond was elected one of the Commissioners of the City of Daytona and was placed in charge of the city buildings, streets, and water-works. He served the city faithfully for three years at the salary of $1,500 a year, neglecting his own business meanwhile.

He erected the City Hall during this time. The home on Orange Avenue (number 21) was erected in 1902 and was moved to west of the railroad in 1924. Eddie L. was president of the Halifax Yacht Club for several years before his death, July 29, 1924. He is buried in the cemetery at Kirtland, Ohio, beside his parents.
